

THIS IS WILDLIGHT

A community committed to education

Wildlight is all about places to live. Places to play. And places to learn. Located within the top-rated Nassau County School District, it's where our youngest residents can start a lifelong love of learning. And the best part of being nurtured near nature? Kids in grades K-5 can take a trail to Wildlight Elementary, located right in the neighborhood.

Of course, we avidly believe that there's no age limit on learning—and that education isn't synonymous with classrooms. That's why there are plenty of ways to discover something new at Wildlight, whether that's through exploring our creative parks, meandering trails and preserved open spaces (our "natural playground"), or meeting neighbors and friends at one of our community events.
